1. Policy Overview

Tianqi Lithium Australia Pty Ltd ACN 612 085 364 (Tianqi) believes privacy is an important right of individuals. Tianqi takes steps to protect your personal information from misuse and to use your information only in the ways described in this privacy policy and in accordance with the Privacy Act 1988 (Cth) (Privacy Act).

This privacy policy does not apply to personal information collected, or otherwise obtained, by Tianqi in relation to current and former employees and which relates directly to the employment relationship that exists, or existed, between Tianqi and its current and former employees.

Terms used in this privacy policy have the same meaning as those in the Privacy Act.

2. Open and transparent management of personal information

We make our privacy policy available on our website located at <http://tianqilithium.com.au/privacypolicy.pdf> and we can also provide a hard copy version upon request. If you would like more information or a hard copy of this privacy policy, please contact us by:

- phone: +61 (0)8 9460 3300;
- e-mail: privacy@au.tianqilithium.com; or
- post: PO Box 758, West Perth WA 6872, Australia.

3. Personal information

Personal information means information or an opinion about an individual whose identity is apparent or can reasonably be ascertained from the information or opinion. The personal information which we collect, store, use and disclose includes:

- your name;
- your contact details (including emergency contact details);
- employment history;
- your banking details (including your tax file number);
- educational qualifications; and
- certain other details such as your date of birth, gender and occupation.

Some personal information is considered 'sensitive information' for the purposes of the Privacy Act.

If you apply for a position with Tianqi, we may be required to collect sensitive information about you. The sensitive information which we may collect, store, use and disclose in those circumstances may include information or an opinion about your health, membership of a professional or trade association, and criminal record (if any).

We may also may collect, store, use and disclose information about your membership of a professional or trade association if it is disclosed to us in the course of your business dealings with Tianqi.

4. Anonymity and pseudonymity

In most circumstances, it is impractical for people to communicate with us anonymously. We need to identify you to assist you effectively. However, in circumstances where it is lawful and practicable to do so, we will provide you with the option of not identifying yourself, or using a pseudonym, when entering into communications with us.

5. Collection of solicited personal information

We only collect personal information by lawful and fair means where reasonably necessary for our functions or activities as a producer of specialty and industrial chemicals and associated by-products.

We collect personal information which:

- you provide in the course of applying for employment positions at Tianqi;
- you provide to us in the course of providing goods or services to us or to enable us to provide goods or services to you;
- is provided to us by third parties who have disclosed that information to us with your consent (and only if it would be unreasonable or impracticable to collect the information directly from you);
- you provide to us in the course of updating or changing your details;
- is contained in documents or correspondence you provide to us; or
- you provide to us in person, by phone, by post, via our website or via other forms of electronic communication (including via social media).

We only collect sensitive information about you if you consent to the collection of the information and the information is reasonably necessary for one or more of Tianqi's functions or activities. The provision of sensitive information to Tianqi on a voluntary basis (including, for example, information you supply when applying for a position with Tianqi) will be taken to be consent for this purpose.

We may also utilise 'cookies' which enable us to monitor traffic patterns and to serve you more efficiently if you revisit our website. A cookie does not identify you personally but it does identify your computer. You can set your browser to notify you when you receive a cookie and this will provide you with an opportunity to either accept or reject it in each instance. If you reject a cookie, some of the parts or features of the website may not function properly.

6. Collection of unsolicited personal information

From time to time, we may receive unsolicited personal information about you. Unsolicited personal information is information we may receive from you which is not in response to a request by us for that information.

Where we receive unsolicited personal information about you (either directly from you or from a third party), we will consider, within a reasonable period, whether we could have collected that personal information from you had the personal information been solicited.

Where we determine that we could have collected the unsolicited personal information had it been solicited, we will store, use and disclose that personal information in the manner set out in this privacy policy.

Where we determine that we could not have collected the unsolicited personal information had it been solicited, we will destroy or de-identify that unsolicited personal information as soon as practicable, provided it is lawful and reasonable to do so.

7. Use or disclosure of personal information

We may collect, store (in hard copy or electronic form), use or disclose your personal information for the primary purpose of conducting and supporting our business activities as a producer of specialty and industrial chemicals and associated by-products. We may also collect, store, use or disclose your personal information:

- in relation to your application for employment;
- in relation to the provision of goods or services by you to us, or the provision of goods or services by us to you, as the case may be;
- to contact you should we need to;
- to address any enquiries, complaints or feedback from you; or
- to do anything Tianqi is required or authorised by law to do.

Further, we may disclose your personal information to:

- third parties where you have given your consent (express or implied);
- government agencies or other similar entities as required or permitted by law; and
- our professional advisors, contractors or other service providers whom Tianqi may engage from time to time to carry out, advise or assist with the carrying out of the business activities of Tianqi.

Tianqi will not use your personal information for a secondary purpose unless:

- you consent to the use or disclosure or you would reasonably expect us to use it for a secondary purpose which is related to the primary purpose;
- the use or disclosure is required or authorised by law; or
- the use or disclosure is otherwise permitted by the Privacy Act (for example, as a necessary part of an investigation of suspected unlawful activity).

8. Cross-border disclosure of personal information

From time to time, we may use cloud computing services. The use of these services may result in personal information relating to you being held on servers operated by our cloud service providers in countries including the United States of America, Netherlands, Ireland, Singapore, Hong Kong, Japan, South Korea or India. A complete list of those countries in which our cloud service providers host servers, which may vary from time to time, can be found on the following webpages:

- <http://o365datacentermap.azurewebsites.net/>; and
- <https://aws.amazon.com/about-aws/global-infrastructure/>.

We may also send your personal information to our related bodies corporate in China and to third parties located overseas in the United States of America, the European Union or China. Before disclosing your personal information to an overseas recipient, we will take reasonable steps in the circumstances to ensure that the overseas recipient does not breach the Privacy Act, save where:

- we reasonably believe that the recipient of the information is subject to a law or binding scheme that has the effect of protecting information in a way that, overall, is at least substantially similar to the way in which the Privacy Act protects personal information and there are mechanisms that you can access to take action to enforce that protection of the law or binding scheme; or
- you have consented to the transfer.

9. Adoption, use or disclosure of government related identifiers

Where we collect your personal information, it will usually be identified by a common identifier, such as your name, address or contact details.

Subject to certain exceptions under the Privacy Act, Tianqi will not disclose identifiers assigned by Government agencies or its agents, such as tax file numbers, or use those identifiers to identify your personal information.

10. Direct marketing

Unless you request otherwise, we may also use your personal information for marketing purposes to send you news, information about our activities and general promotional material which we believe may be useful or of interest to you. If you do not want us to use your personal information in this manner, please contact us using the contact details provided above in "Section 2 - Open and transparent management of personal information" and we will give effect to your request as soon as practicable.

11. Security of personal information

We take reasonable steps to protect your data from misuse, interference and loss, and from unauthorised access, modification or disclosure.

Tianqi also takes reasonable steps to destroy or permanently de-identify personal information which is no longer needed for the purposes described in this privacy policy.

12. Access to personal information

Subject to any exceptions in the Privacy Act, if you have provided us with personal information, you have a right to request access to it. If you are of the belief that Tianqi holds personal information relating to you and you wish to obtain access to this information, please contact us on the details provided above. We may ask you to provide proof of your identity if you request access to or correction of your personal information.

In the event that a request for access is made, we will review our records to determine what personal information relating to you we hold and endeavour to respond to your request within a reasonable period after the request is made.

Once we have notified you of the nature of the personal information relating to you which we hold, we will give you access to your personal information in the manner requested by you, if it is reasonable and practicable to do so.

We do not levy a charge in respect of the making of a request for access to personal information held by us. However, we may charge you for the reasonable costs incurred by us in providing you with access to the personal information held by us.

The Privacy Act provides instances where a holder of personal information may refuse to provide an individual with access to their personal information. If we refuse to give you access to your personal information, we will give you a written notice that sets out our reasons for the refusal and the mechanisms available to complain about our refusal.

13. Correction of personal information

Tianqi takes reasonable steps to keep your personal information as accurate, complete and up-to-date as possible. We make an effort to ensure this data is of high quality, but this relies on the accuracy and frequency of data provided by you.

You can assist us by notifying us if your circumstances change, such as if your name changes.

If we hold personal information about you and you request that we correct the information, we will take reasonable steps to rectify the situation free of charge if we are satisfied that the information is inaccurate, out-of-date, incomplete, irrelevant or misleading. If we refuse to correct your personal information, we will give you a written notice setting out our reasons for the refusal and the mechanisms available to complain about the refusal.

14. Complaints, questions or further information

If you wish to make a complaint about a breach of your privacy by Tianqi, you may contact us using the contact details provided above. All complaints will be investigated by an appropriately qualified representative of Tianqi. We will endeavour to respond to your complaint as soon as practicable and, in any event, within 30 days. We will notify you of the outcome of the investigation, including how we propose to resolve your complaint and what, if any, corrective measures we will implement.

If you are not satisfied with our handling of your complaint, you may lodge a complaint with the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner (OAIC). For more information about doing so, visit <http://www.oaic.gov.au/privacy/making-a-privacy-complaint>.

15. Changes to privacy policy

Tianqi reserves the right to amend this privacy policy from time to time. If we do so, the amended privacy policy will be posted as soon as practicable following that amendment on our webpage (<http://tianqilithium.com.au/>).
